

ABSTRACT

An improved method for detection of total coliforms and E. coli comprising a broth containing an ingredient that will suppress growth of non-coliform gram negative bacteria, and at least one chromogen or fluorogen has been used effectively and is cost effective. Preferred methods include use of filter and/or plates containing the growth-promoting ingredients and the indicators.

BEST AVAILABLE COPY